The following is an analysis of the performance of the candidates based on a total population of 1,116,826. The number of girls who sat for examination was 556,566 while that of boys was 560,260. The boys had a mean mark of 19.15 and a standard deviation of 6.21, while the girls had a mean mark of 19.43 and a standard deviation of 5.79.

The table above shows the relative difficulty of each of the 30 items in the year 2020 CRE examination. The analysis is derived from the approximate percentage of candidates scoring correctly in each item in the paper.

Any item where the candidate scoring correctly is 40% or lower is perceived to have been poorly performed. In 2020 there were questions that were poorly performed because the candidates scored below 40%. This report will therefore look at the questions that were poorly performed i.e. had 40% and below scoring correctly.

Questions which recorded a facility index of 40% and below

The discussion will focus on analysis of the items given above based on the ideas, skills and thinking processes that candidates may have gone through so as to arrive at the correct responses. It also focuses on the misconceptions that may have led the candidates to the wrong choices. The asterisk (*) in the response pattern denotes the correct response.

Question 66

The main lesson Christians learn from the incident when Ruth followed Naomi to her native land is that they should be

- A. obedient
- B. honest
- C. trustworthy
- D. persistent.

Response pattern

OPTION	A	B	C	D*
% choosing the option	19.56	17.22	37.86	24.29
Mean mark in other questions	15.65	16.33	20.17	23.01

This question came from the Old Testament part of the syllabus. It is an evaluation question. Majority of the candidates chose option C. The candidates were easily attracted by the option because of the family relationship between Ruth and Naomi who was her mother-in-law. The literal interpretation of that story is that Ruth trusted Naomi as her mother-in-law. This indicates lack of understanding of that content. Teachers should emphasize on reading the Bible references during teaching and also explain to the learners the deeper meaning of the Biblical stories.

This is an application question from the New Testament part of the syllabus. The candidates are supposed to know and understand the teachings of Jesus. However, in this case the candidates could not take their time and critically evaluate the choices given hence many went for option A although it is not right. Teachers should guide the candidates to apply the knowledge acquired in class to answer questions.

This is an analysis question which came from the New Testament part of the syllabus. The candidates were supposed to know the events related to the resurrection of Jesus. However, the response pattern provided, indicates lack of knowledge in this area since only a small percentage of the candidates scored the item right. Mean mark in other questions	13.18	12.01	18.71	21.89

This is a synthesis question which came from the Contemporary Christian Living part of the syllabus. The candidates are supposed to combine the knowledge acquired from both the Contemporary Christian Living and African religious heritage to answer the question. However, majority of the candidates were influenced by the events in their daily lives especially outside classroom setup and therefore went for option C although it is not right. During teaching and revision, teachers should compare the social life in both the contemporary living and traditional African living to enable the learners to distinguish activities which are only practiced in the contemporary society from those conducted in the traditional African communities. This will give learners the information which will enable them to answer questions correctly.

This will give learners the information which will enable them to answer questions correctly.
